

University Writing Center

offers free one-to-one consultation services to writers at all stages of the writing process

Belk Library and Information Commons
Room 204

See our website for hours of operation

To make an appointment:

register at www.writingcenter.appstate.edu

call or text 828-476-8644

email writingctr@appstate.edu

Walk-ins welcome

What We Do

We work with writers on any kind of writing project at any stage of the writing process, from inventing topics to sentence-level editing. We can help with scholarly, academic, creative, and professional writing—plus more.

The University Writing Center will help you with any aspect of writing, including editing or proofreading, but we cannot edit or write papers for you. Our priority is to help writers identify their own goals and determine how to achieve them.

Who We Are

Our consultants are experienced writers and attentive readers from different academic disciplines. We are undergraduates, graduate students, faculty members, and professionals.

What to Bring

Bring notes, outlines, rough drafts, your assignment sheet, syllabus, writing guidelines—whatever writing you have! If you are working on a group project, be sure to bring all the members of your group.